Talk Time

Talk about these questions together.
• How were you named? In honor or memory of a friend or relative? After a biblical character? For the meaning, look, or sound of your name? Sit down together as a family and share the stories of your names.

• Have you ever called a family member or a friend a bad name (either out loud or just in your head)? What happened next? How did you feel? How do you think the other person felt? What did such name-calling do to your relationship with this person?

• There are many ways to call on God's name, including those listed by Martin Luther in the Small Catechism: in a superstitious manner; to curse, swear, lie, or deceive; and in prayer, praise, and thanksgiving. In which of these ways have you called on the name of God? What can you as a family do to help one another use God's name appropriately?
