Creating a Sacred Space Wednesday, June 3rd 6-8 @ Broome Community College

In a world where we feel spread out like bread dough being rolled in many directions, the sacredness of our own personal space is something our soul yearns for. Discover why it is so important to create a sacred space-not only in your busy schedule-but in your physical environment as well. A space that reflects bliss, balance & inner peace.

Awakening to your life purpose, Tuesday, June 16th, 23rd & 30th 6-8 @ Broome Community College

So much has been said about discovering one's soul or life purpose. When we are doing the right thing...it FEELS right... We are in the flow. When we are living our life purpose we feel at ease & in alignment with the universe. Each of us has the potential to transcend the ego-based state of consciousness & lead with our hearts and live a life of purpose. You were meant to do great things, you can and will as you uncover the illusion that we are separate from one another.
