

BRIDGHAM DESCENDANT LINES

by

John & Charlotte (Fuhs) Hanrahan

This presents the descendant lines recorded in my database.

Open the Bookmarks Tab to see my Ancestral lines.

Pages tab will make it faster to get to a page.

Index will provide a list of names with page numbers those names can be found.

In the beginning, there are listed two Bridgham persons descending to two Henry Bridghams. From information I've found, I'm not sure of the correct ancestral line. As a result, the presentation following is to explain the Bridgham outlines presented in this book.

The Thomas & Francis Bridgham are in dispute as to whom is the real ancestor. Therefore, the Henry1a and Henry 2a and are in dispute with birth dates and who their parents are; both Henry's are the same person; but will try to find correct information. Their descendants are as listed and will be correctly aligned when proper ancestry is determined and the number plus letter after given name will be removed.

The first Bridgham's started to appear in Eastern England in the mid-16th century.

John Bridgem or Bredgham was born about 1539 in Pakenham. He married Ann Last (born abt 1543 of Pakenham) in 1564. Children, born in Pakenham:

Anne Bredgham, born 1568
Rose Bredgham, born 1580
John Bredgham, christened 1584

Thomas Bridgham was born about 1544 in Wattisfield. In 1569, he married Anne Sawyer, born about 1548 of Wattisfield. Children, born in Wattisfield:

John Bridgham, born 1570
Thomas Bridgham, born 1571
Henry Bridgham, born 1573

Francis Bridgham was born around 1560. He married Margaret Worter (born about 1561 in Thelnatham) about 1580. Francis is the progenitor of the Bridgham line documented in this book.

It is interesting to note that these three towns (Pakenham, Wattisfield, and Thelnatham) are all in Suffolk county, are all within 20 miles of each other, and they form a triangle with the village of Bridgham ("Hamlet by the Bridge") at the middle. The village Bridgham has a history that precedes these dates, so it is likely that these men took their names from the town, not the other way. Interestingly enough, the village of Bridgham has no town records of any resident named Bridgham.

"White's History, Gazetteer, and Directory of Norfolk, 1845" describes Bridgham this way:

"BRIDGHAM, a small village in the pleasant vale of the Thet river, 2 miles W. of East Harling, and 6 miles E. by N. of Thetford, contains 328 inhabitants, and 2639A. of land, of which Sir J. S. Sebright, Bart., is principal owner and lord of the manor. Wm. Cockell and C. Harrison, Esqrs., have estates here."

The following is a description supplied by The Church of St. Mary of the Virgin, at Bridgham, Norfolk, England:

"The name of the village was "Brugeham" in 1050, and "Briggeham" in 1280. It means "Ham (settlement) by a bridge". It is likely to be a very ancient settlement, as the Peddar's Way forms the western boundary of the parish, and the parish is crossed by the prehistoric drove road from Hockwold to the Thet. Although not mentioned in the Domesday Book (1086), there was undoubtedly a church here in Saxon days, for a priest lived here at the time of the Domesday Book, a church is recorded in the Inquisitio Eliensis (a contemporary document) and even earlier the Rectory was given to the monks of Ely by Ethelwold, Bishop of Winchester, confirmed by Edward the Confessor. There is no sign however of Saxon work in the present building, which is mainly 14th century 'decorated' work."

It is probable that John, Thomas, and Francis are all related, sons of an unknown Bridgham. Francis might be the son of either John or Thomas.

It appears that there is no connection between the Bridgham line and families of similar names, such as Bridgeham, Bridgman, Brigham, and Bridgum.

Preface

The first Outline presents the oldest known Bridgham ancestor and those leading to the emigrants to show the Bridgham lines as noted in the Bridgham info previously noted.

The second outline provides the outline of the Thomas Bridgham descendants based on what is believed the oldest known Bridgham ancestor in the direct lines and up to 12 generations descending from that ancestor.
