Preface

WRITTEN 11/2001:

The following is based on the information discovered and discussions with other Sarver and Surber family researchers. The important fact to understand, that, there are various opinions and conclusions as to the identity and family ancestry of this Casper Surber. The following dialogs are only the facts learned in the discovery of the possible ancestry to the Sarver family of this researcher.

HISTORY:

The Surber name is prominent in America. Many folks can trace their ancestry to the Surber (also spelled Zurber) name originating from the early immigrants to Pennsylvania. There are some families from Pennsylvania and Virginia that have the Sarver Surname that eventually trace their ancestry back to the Surber/Zurber surname. There are various reasons found for the name change but the real reason is unknown. There is no proof to establish any relationship of this Casper Surber to any of the Pennsylvania Surbers, Zurbers or Sarvers; However, some Sarver surnames that trace their ancestry back through Texas, Iowa, Illinois, Indiana, Tennessee, and Kentucky may eventually link to this Casper Surber of Virginia. All other Surber or Sarver relatives most likely will link to the Pennsylvania emigrants.

However, it appears that all these early families from Pennsylvania and Virginia are from the Northern area of the Canton of Zurich, Switzerland. These are the German families of Switzerland that occupy the area just east of the French and south of the German borders with Switzerland. The Sarver/Surber families in America may be related in genealogy to this area of Europe; and many Surber/Zurber families still live in this Swiss area today. Many Swiss records have provided links to the Surber families in America. The Alsace-Lorraine area of France (or Germany) is noted in some family presentations as the location of some families with the surname Zurber or Surber.

There are no known or validated ancestral links to this Casper Surber's parents. While some folks present Casper Surber and link him to a Surber family from Pennsylvania, others believe this is a myth; and among many credible genealogy researchers, professional and amateur, the exact knowledge and proof of this Casper Surber is only known by records found of his death and other civil records that identify his presents in early Virginia. References to Casper Surber by many family presentations provide birth, immigration and marriage information; but those presentations are the conclusions of those individuals with no proof to link the ancestral trail to those of this Casper Surber.

The real ancestry and the exact identification of this Casper Surber is a genealogy question. However, there is agreement about his existence and the link to the Casper Surber whom died in Botetourt County, Virginia in 1782.

ANCESTRY and BIRTH:

The Ancestral trail of most presentations of a Casper Surber, born 29 November 1707, link him to the father named Heinrich Surber and his Ancestors. Heinrich left Steinmur, Switzerland and arrived in Philadelphia aboard the ship named Mercury in 1735. A son of Heinrich who could be this Casper was listed as missing and presumed died at sea. According to some researchers, there is no proof found to date to link Casper Surber to Heinrich Surber either in American or Swiss records. This Casper is listed with a second wife named Elizabeth and was the wife listed at the time of his death.

Other researchers believe this is the Casper Surber born 5 March 1719 and arrived in America on 18 April 1741 from Oberwenigin, Switzerland. This Casper is listed as married to Barbara Merckj (Merck). Soon after their marriage they immigrated to America. This Casper also is shown with a second marriage to a woman named Elizabeth. She was the wife listed at the time of his death.

However, the theory by most accounts is, that, Casper Surber was in Pennsylvania before he is found in records of Virginia in the late 1700s. In resources naming passengers from Switzerland that arrived in Philadelphia and the Carolinas in the 1700s, many of these list display the same names as noted in this Preface. Therefore, these are believed common given names and any one of these people could be the persons names in this report.

WIVES:

The wife's of Casper Surber are somewhat a mystery; but, his last wife Elizabeth is fact based on his will; however, she is believed not the mother of the children named as his descendants. Depending on which story is read, the first wife and believed the mother of Casper's children, possibly are identified as two different women as noted in the ancestry presented in this file. However, upon his death, it is believed the he had a second wife named Elizabeth based on information in his will and her will; Her will left her estate to another person not related to Casper Surber or his descendants. However, this person could be a servant and not related to Elizabeth. Some believe she is a daughter from another marriage.

DEATH:

The death of Casper Surber from all presentations is the same, January 1782, in Botetourt County, Virginia. Many documents have been discovered that provides for his will, tax records of his property, and facts that provide information about his naming of sons and their inheritance.

His will was dated 15 January 1782 and was probated in February 1782.

CHILDREN:

No data is found for a daughter listed as Catherine but most list her name and birth date. The wills of Casper Surber and other civil records along with census reports and family descendants provide for the names of Casper's three sons. However their birth dates and locations vary among family presentation. If Casper immigrated in 1835 or 1841 and if the marriage dates listed are true, this would mean his children could have been born in America and not, as most presentations note, in Germany or Switzerland. However, due to the length of the emigration journey, children could have been born along the way.

The following represents one viewpoint found on this Casper Surber:

Received 7/16/2001 (Janet King)

"The ancestry presented for Casper Sarver of Botetourt County, Virginia is unproven and based upon research done in Swiss Parish and Emigration records for Hans Casper Surber baptized the 29th of November 1707 in Steinmur, Switzerland...he left the Parish of Steinmur in Switzerland with his father Heinrich Surber and step-mother Anna. Their destination was the Carolinas. Heinrich Surber arrived in Philadelphia aboard the Mercury in 1735...the ship originated from Rotterdam - it's last stop Cowes, England. Upon his arrival, Henry (H) Surber took the subscribed oaths of Government 29th May 1735 at the Philadelphia Courthouse. Heinrich Surber (Jr) is listed as "missing" on the ship list and there was no entry for Hans Casper Surber. According to some Surber/Sarver researchers a Will exist in Bern Church Records showing the birth of John Surber in Virginia in 1734 to Casper Surber. Several issues need to be resolved before merging these two individuals."

"Casper Sarver was in Botetourt County, Virginia as early as 1772....among the tithables for Craig's Creek. Botetourt had been formed from Augusta County in 1769. His son John was on the same list - his name misspelled Severn. Public Service Claims Commissioner's Book I list shows Gasper Server had furnished a "beef" during the Revolution. He was taxed living on half of 109 acres in Botetourt County in the 1782 list of Early Settlers. His neighbors included Jacob Trout, Micheal Tooney and Henry Smith. Botetourt County - it's Men 1770-1777 shows Casper Sarver on Craigs Creek in 1772, Upper Craigs and Catawba Creek in 1773 and on Craigs, Potts, and Sinking Creeks. Casper was on the tax list of 1785 for Botetourt County with 4 people, 1 dwelling and no other buildings. "Botetourt County - it's Men 1780-1786" shows Casper in the 48th District on 55 acres. Casper wrote his Will 15th day of Jan 1782 and said he is very sick, weak and of imperfect health of body. He calls himself a yeoman - meaning he was a landowner. He gives his wife Elizabeth the chest, beds and cloaths and body cloaths and twelve pounds in John Smallwood's hands and two cows and all my household furniture, ax and half the hogs, eight bushells of small grain. He signed with his "mark". The Will was witnessed by Joseph Summerfield, William Davis and Casper Long. Casper lived only a few days after writing his Will which was probated the following month of February."

The following represents a second viewpoint found on this Casper Surber:

Received 8/2/2001 (Theda Womack)

Her conclusion as to the Casper Surber of Virginia is based on a book found at the Tennessee State Archives and is a book available in most genealogy library resources.

"Swiss Emigrants in the 18th Century to the American Colonies" by Faust & Brumbaugh.

This book list the Casper Surber & Barbara Merkj as presented in this file. According to this book, the marriage to Barbara Merkj took place prior to emigrating; therefore, children could have been born in America or that is took them a long time to travel Europe and children may have been born enroute.

Theda Womack

"It is believed that the Casper SARVER of Botetourt Co., VA was the same person as the Casper SURBER who was born 5 March 1719, married to Barbara MERK (Merkj) on 14 March 1741, left to the American Colonies from Oberwenigen Switzerland on 18 April 1741. They possibly lived in PA before appearing in VA 1779."

"Early settlers in Botetourt County, VA included Gasper, Henry and John SARVER who owned land on Craigs' Creek in the 1770's, 80's and 1790's."

'Casper SARVER died in Botetourt Co., VA and left will probated in February 1782. He left personal property to wife Elizabeth and divided land between sons, Henry and Casper. To his son John he left "my still and still vessels and Bible." The will of his widow, Elizabeth SARVER, who was evidently a second wife, in 1787 left all of her property to Julia WEBB, Sr.'

ANOTHER THEORY:

There has been speculation by some with the surname Seaver that this Casper Surber was related to an English family in Virginia. A father and wife and their children emigrated to America who, Coincidentally, had the same names as this Casper Surber family; however, the English spelling of Casper is Jasper. The father died en route and only the mother and children arrived in America.

However, by all accounts from Casper Surber's descendants, the children were German speaking and some never learned English in their life time; therefore, this myth is false as the accounts of German language and other facts from Casper Surber's descendants conclude there is no connection to the Seaver surname.

SUMMARY:

Therefore, this file reflects the facts as found on this Casper Surber and does provide information in the discovery to help others realize the real story surrounding this man and his family. The conclusions are based upon some fact; while others are based on theory and beliefs that result in the conclusions presented by others. Until valid proof of Casper Surber's real identity and immigration can be provided, this researcher hopes this information provides a cautious tone that some information can be real and some information may be a myth. A Casper Surber does exist, and he is identified by records and the ancestral trail of his descendants identify him; but the question remains to whom is the real Casper Surber?

The book noted about, "Swiss Emigrants in the 18th Century to the American Colonies" by Faust & Brumbaugh, does list both Casper Surbers & Henrich Surber mentioned in these notes. However, they show coming from different parish areas of Zurich, Switzerland and state the names as listed in this record. However, only the record of arrival has been found showing Henrich Surber and family, but no record found to date of the arrival of Casper Surber & his wife Barbara Merkj. There are other books about Swiss and German immigrants that list "Casper Surbers" and continued research could find one of them to be the Casper Surber that is the subject of this research. Also, lists exist that provide a Casper Surber entering America in either the port of Carolina or Philadelphia. Continued research will only help provide the potential truth to prove the real Casper Surber and his ancestry.

HELP:

We are also looking for any proof to help validate our Andrew Sarver (b: 1808). While we have some notes that help link him to his parents, we still need better proof to help validate this link. Also, we have no known surname for wife Perlina and don't know if she could be the same as Elizabeth Andrew married in 1822 or this is a second wife.

Any notes or comments will be appreciated.
