Quality Faith!

St. Ignatius of Antioch wrote: For faith is the beginning and the end is love and God is the two of them brought into unity. After these, comes whatever else makes up a Christian. All of us have struggles in our life. Whether it is sickness, unemployment, emotional problems, family conflicts or financial difficulties, we all encounter situations that may seem too large to bear. Our scripture readings today remind us that "faith is not a matter of quantity but of quality." No matter where we are on our journey of faith – no matter if our faith is only the size of a mustard seed - we are asked to trust that God will not disappoint us if we remain faithful. The quality of our faith is measured by how much we are willing to dare, risk, and trust in the Lord. The gift of faith will never take away the troubles we encounter or the hurts we face. As Christians, we face many difficulties but with loving trust, we know that we will be given the strength to walk the bumpy road of life!

Today is also designated "Respect Life Sunday." As Catholics, we are called to witness our faith by living a life that reflects the value and dignity of ALL LIFE: from womb to tomb, every age and every culture, the forgotten or thrown-away, the poor, the sick, the saint or sinner, those condemned to death, or those condemned by society because they are "different". Through our baptism, we are called to be in relationships with God and with one another. May our words and actions echo the dignity, the miracle, and the priceless treasure of all life!

Harvest Blessings,
Roxanne

Housekeeping Items...

This week I want to address some parish/community housekeeping items. These do not pertain to maintaining building or grounds on any of our four parishes, rather, these items pertain to maintaining our parishes as a home; that is, a place where all not only feel welcomed, but are invited and wanted.

Lately, we at the parish offices have been doing some updating of the parish rosters. I have decided to take it upon myself register as adults those who were born and raised in our community and now live as adults within our parish boundaries. Many of these young men and women are married and have started families already.

This is a somewhat bold and presumptuous move on my part, since technically any adult Catholic wanting to be a member of our parishes would have to take it upon himself to register. Many of them have gotten caught up in the busy world and have found it difficult to find time to register. We will work on making it easier for the future generations to register on their own.

I have added their names to the "lists". Now, it is up to all of us to get them in the doors. Bringing "new blood" into our parishes takes the willingness of others to want to join, dedication and evangelization on the part of the Pastor, and a spirit of religious duty and hospitality on the part of the whole community. More converts are brought to the faith by the living witness of its members than by any other factor. People who look into our communities from the outside will know if we are genuinely living the gospel by the way we worship while at Mass and by the way we live out our faith in our everyday-ness. People want a community that is true to the Church and friendly.

If you are a registered member of our four parish community, we want to see you worship regularly in our parishes – not somewhere else. I want to know the families of the children that are baptized and educated here, and I ask for your support in this project.

Peace & Blessings,

Fr. Timothy J. Hall
